Essentials

SKILLS & SAVES

Checks are roll 1d20 and roll under your stat.

For example, you have a:

STR 16(+3) so for a STR check you roll 1d20 and need a 16 or lower to succeed.

Saves or saving throws are by class and level. You roll 1d20 and need to roll higher to succeed.

For example, a 4th level Elf has a save vs. Wands(W) of 11, so you need to roll 11 or higher to succeed.

Specific skills

Certain classes (like Thief) have special skills like Move Silently (MS). These skills are roll 1d100 and then roll under the listed number to succeed.

For example a Lvl. 3 Thief has a MS of 30, so roll 1d100 and 1 → 30 succeeds.

X in 6 skills

All characters have the ability to do things like search for secret doors or force open a stuck door. The chance can vary by class or by Ability score.

For example, with a STR of 15 you have a 3 in 6 chance of opening a stuck door. Roll 1d6, and 1, 2, or 3 you open it.

ATTACKS / COMBAT

1. BEFORE initiative is rolled, declare if you are casting a spell or moving while in melee range of an enemy.

Moves happen, then missile attacks, then spells, then melee attacks.

2. Attack rolls. Roll 1d20, apply modifier (STR for melee, DEX for range, cover), then look at your THACO chart. Nat 20s always hit, 1s always miss.

For example:

		To Hit AC
Roll		-3	-2	-1	0	1	2	3	4	5	6
	20	20	20	19	18	17	16	15	14	13	12

You roll 1d20 and get a 14. You have a +1 STR modifier, so you really got a 15. A 15 hits an AC of 4, so you tell the DM you hit an AC of 4! When in doubt, look at the chart.
